Don Graham is Chairman of the Graham Holdings Company (previously The Washington Post). Steven Spielberg’s movie, The Post, recently highlighted a time when the Graham family faced the complex decision of publishing the Pentagon Papers. Don’s family published The Washington Post from 1946 until 2013. Graham joined the newspaper in 1971 as a reporter and held the publisher position from 1979- 2000 succeeding his mother, Katharine Graham. Graham is a trustee of the Federal City Council.

He also served as a director of the College Success Foundation, KIPP-DC, The Summit Fund of Washington, Facebook, and was a member of the Pulitzer Prize Board.

Amanda Bennett is a Pulitzer Prize-winning author, investigative journalist and editor and was named Director of the Voice of America in March 2016. Through 2013, she was Executive Editor at Bloomberg News, where she created and ran a global team of investigative reporters and editors. She was also co-founder of Bloomberg News’ Women’s project. She was editor of The Philadelphia Inquirer from June 2003 to November 2006, and prior to that was editor of the Herald-Leader in Lexington, Kentucky. She also served for three years as managing editor/projects for The Oregonian in Portland. Bennett served as a Wall Street Journal reporter for more than 20 years.
